

Denial

if I give to you, what is it I give and do you want it

if I take what you offer is it mine to keep,...

or do I take it for you,
to make myself feel better,...

or are you giving
because you think that I need

and should I be thankful, or is it expected

I am confused
and so I say nothing

and the silence builds
for we are fearful

fearful of problems
that might appear

because nothing is wrong
we are convinced

so when you
say "Good Morning"
my heart goes cold.
