

BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION OF NORTH CAROLINA
Mobilizing Baptists for Ministry

August 9, 2005

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known David Haltom and his family for about four years now and it has been a special relationship. I was his State Consultant for his new church start for over three years. During that time, David gave 100 % to the new church start. He was very flexible and willing to learn all he could glean from any available resource. He worked diligently to see that everything was done in the correct way and he was not afraid to try anything once. He, his family and the church made more contacts and community visits than any church planter I have ever worked with. His heart belonged to the lost and unchurched people he was trying to reach. At every turn Satan placed roadblocks in the way but David and his group did not give up. They plowed on trying to make a difference in people's lives.

I consider David a friend and would not hesitate to call upon him for any need I might have. His wife and daughter are also committed to helping David realize his call from God. He is a true man of faith and trust in our Lord. He gives his all to those around him and does not count the cost. Whatever task he seeks to undertake, I know he will give to make it happen and he will strive to always be the man God has called him to be.

Sincerely,

Pamela Mungo