Part 1

You should complete and sign Part 2 of this form only if Part 1 has been completed by the Department of Immigration and Multicultural Affairs office processing your application for General Skilled Migration to Australia.

Part 2

You should read the General Skilled Migration booklet before completing Part 2 of this form. After selecting a Designated Security, send this form with the Investment application to the State/Territory agency in which you have decided to make your investment. Contact details of participating State/Territory agencies offering Designated Securities are provided in the General Skilled Migration booklet.

Note: It is important to be aware that you can invest only in one of the available Designated Securities. You are not required to invest in the State or Territory where you intend to live.

Part 3

Part 3 of this form will be completed by the State/Territory agency in which you have made your investment. They will return the form to the office processing your application as evidence of your Designated Security.

Your investment will become effective and interest will commence only on receipt of your funds by the agency.

Your Designated Security allows you to be awarded bonus points for capital investment under the general points test.

Taxation obligations

Income you earn from your investment in Australia will be subject to tax under Australian tax law. The Australian Taxation Office (ATO) has advised that income earned in Australia by a non-resident is subject to 10% withholding tax which will be automatically deducted from the interest earned on your Designated Security until such time as you provide an Australian tax file number and evidence of your resident status.

The ATO strongly advises people arriving in Australia for the first time as permanent residents to apply for a tax file number through the ATO.

The information provided in this form on the range of designated securities and associated taxation matters was understood to be correct at the time of printing.

The Commonwealth of Australia does not approve or endorse the securities listed in the General Skilled Migration booklet or provide advice on their performance. You should not rely on any information or advice received from the Commonwealth for the purpose of making an investment decision. It is your responsibility to obtain relevant investment information from participating State/Territory agencies when selecting a Designated Security. The Commonwealth will not accept any liability whatsoever, whether for negligence or otherwise, for any loss you may suffer as a result of making an investment.
