NEWS

Randy "Elvis" Friskie was on hand Monday morning for the raising of the "Cloverland Gates" - replicas of the original Graceland gates - at the Cloverdale Fairgrounds. Organizers are busy putting a few finishing touches on Elvis Mania 2003, the first annual three-day tribute to the King that kicks off Saturday, Aug. 2. Friskie will not only do his amazing tribute to Elvis reflecting different phases of his career, he will also host the Sunday morning Now TV Gospel Show on the main stage. The event is expected to draw some 60,000 visitors. photo Brian Howell

RCMP told to top up force

Surrey will increase its RCMP force by an additional 35 members, on top of the 20 officers already coming on board next year, said Insp. Reg Reeves.

OPINION

Half century past war yet little change

Did you pause Sunday, noting the 50th anniversary of the ceasefire that ended the Korean War?

LETTERS

Whalley a wonderful place for families

I was thrilled when I picked up the Now from my front porch and found a picture of my son and his Whalley All-Star team.

COMMUNITY

Rocking the arts in White Rock

"It's hard to find good quality art shows in which to exhibit your stuff and hopefully make some sales," said Margaret Eisenman. "A lot of shows these days are a mixed bag."

SPORTS

New faces take places atop winner's podium

An Australian and a Newfoundlander pulled away on the final laps and raced away from an international field to take the men's and women's road races in the 24th Tour de White Rock Sunday.

ENTERTAINMENT

A giant among children

Rising children's performer Chris Hamilton says kids make some of the most honest audiences a musician can expect. "Kids always give a real opinion," he says.
